

CONTRIBUTORS

Alexandrou Haralambos, PhD in Modern and Contemporary Greek History (University of Cyprus). His research interests focus on the political and military history of the period 1950-1974. He has worked in various research programmes, presented his work in international conferences and published articles in scientific magazines and volumes. He has published four books, three on the period 1955-1959 and one on the war of 1974 in Cyprus.

Antreou Magdalene, Historian-Researcher, Research Fellow Bank of Cyprus Cultural Foundation. She has a PhD in Political Science and History and an MSc in Ottoman studies from the Panteion University of Social and Political Sciences. She specialises in the archival research of Cyprus history during the late nineteenth-early twentieth century. Her research interests include Cyprus' history, economy, society and politics. Her latest research is focusing on Cypriot women's economic history. She has presented the findings of the first phase of her recent research in the third annual conference Women, Money and Markets in the University of Sussex.

Christodoulou Athina, Senior Associate at Assurance Department of PwC Cyprus. Athina graduated from the ACCA in June 2018. She holds a BSc First Class Honours Degree in Accounting & Finance from Cass Business School of City, University of London. She has been awarded a scholarship in all years of studies at Cass Business School and completed her ACCA studies in eighteen months while working full time. She is a graduate of the Pascal English School, Nicosia with an outstanding apolytirion grade. She obtained four GCE A levels with grade A and LCCI Accounting Higher with distinction.

Dimarellis Konstantinos, Lecturer, School of Law, Department of Law, University of Nicosia. He has given lectures at the Universities of Stirling (Scotland), Limerick (Ireland) and Verona (Italy). He works as a Lawyer since 2008, member of Thessaloniki Bar Association. He is the author of the book Fundamental principles of disciplinary law and has published articles mainly related with Labour Law issues. He has participated as a speaker at conferences and workshops and has given TV and radio interviews.

Giokaris Ioannis, Adjunct Lecturer, School of Law, University of Nicosia. He teaches Commercial Law I (in English), Commercial Law II (in English), Commercial law and Negotiable Instruments (in Greek) and Insolvency Law (in Greek). Additionally, he is an instructor in Business Law at Global Training in Limassol.

Hadjimichael Michael (Mike), Associate Head of Department, Associate Professor, School of Humanities and Social Sciences, Department of Communications. His PhD was in Cultural Studies at the Centre for Contemporary Cultural Studies (CCCS) in England. CCCS was an important experience as it defined many aspects of his academic, cultural and political perspectives. Mike is particularly interested in art and social justice, media literacy, citizen's media, colonial writing/texts, media representation and semiotics. Recent publications include Bail Out – from Now to Never – a rhetorical analysis of two songs about economic crisis and Bob Marley's Radio Interviews in Britain and USA – reasoning with issues of absence and presence (1973-80).

Lois Petros, Head of Department, Professor, School of Business, Department of Accounting of Accounting, University of Nicosia. Petros Lois holds an MSc degree in Accounting from De Montfort University (UK), and a PhD degree in Marine Technology from Liverpool John Moores University (UK). He is a Certified Management Accountant (CMA) and he holds the Chair of PwC in Business Research at the University of Nicosia. He is currently an Associate Professor and the Head of the Department of Accounting. He has also served as the Dean of the School of Business, Director of Academic Affairs Department at the University of Nicosia, Cyprus, and the coordinator of the two professional qualifications namely CIA (Certified Internal Auditors, USA) and CFA (Chartered Financial Analysts, USA). He is a member of the Institute of Certified Management Accountants of Australia (ICMA), the Institute of Marine Engineers, Science and Technology (IMarEST, UK), and the National Bookkeepers Association (NBA, USA). He is a member of the Board of Directors of the Cyprus Port Authority (CPA). His research interests include accounting, working capital management, finance, and shipping (maritime). His research work has been published in international conference proceedings, books and journals.

Nikolaou Fotios, Lecturer of Civil Law, School of Law, Department of Law, University of Nicosia. He obtained his PhD in Civil Law from the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens – School of Law. He is the author of the book Acquisition of ownership of a movable by a good faith transferee (Nomiki Vivliothiki, 2014). He has been a lawyer, member of the Athens Bar Association, since 2007. His research interests and publications focus on all fields of Civil Law.

Papageorgiou Maria (Mary), PhD candidate of Political Science and International Relations at the University of Minho, Portugal. Her main research interest is about international relations theory and in particular the Sino-Russian strategic partnership. Her bachelor's degree in international and European Studies was obtained at University of Piraeus while her master's degree in International Political Economy at Panteion University. She has also participated in the Erasmus Student exchange at University of Maribor, as an intern in the Institute of Cultural Diplomacy in Berlin, as a participant in the summer school of the European University Institute in Florence and represented Greece as National Ambassador in Generation Europe in Brussels.

Pavlidis George, Assistant Professor, School of Humanities and Social Sciences, Department of Communications, University of Nicosia. He is a graduate of Lomonosov Moscow State University and holds a PhD in Journalism issued by Sofia State University St Kliment Ohridski. He has also taught at the University of Cyprus, the Cyprus University of Technology (TEPAK), the Academy of Public Administration and the Cyprus Police Academic as Special Teaching Faculty (STF). At the past, he also taught at the Journalism programme of the Frederick Institute. He is an accredited trainer of the Human Resource Development Authority. Dr Pavlidis is the President of the Cyprus Media Complaints Commission and the Director of the Mass Media Institute. As a journalist, he has worked for the press, the electronic and online media. He worked as political editor, copy editor, radio and TV producer, editor-in-chief in various media. He was the director of ASTRA Radio station from 2006 to 2014. For the last five years, he has been co-operating with the 'Channel 6' (Kanali 6) radio station, where he leads three radio shows.

Sakellaropoulos Spyros, Professor, Social Policy Department of Panteion University. His research interests are centred on the theory of the State, the study of the Modern Greek and Cypriot societies and the theory of development of the capitalist mode of production.

Satsias Nicos, PhD (University of Nicosia), District Organiser of the Free Labour Center of Nicosia-Kerynia of Cyprus Worker's Confederation (SEK) and Vice-President of the National Anti-Poverty Network – Cyprus. He was the National Coordinator of the program European Minimum Income Network (EMIN) in Cyprus and the writer of the two National Reports to the European Commission, under this capacity. He is also a Eurotrainer of the European Trade Union Institute (ETUI) and a member of the Industrial Disputes Tribunal and the Rent Control Tribunal in Cyprus, representing worker's and tenants respectively.

Stelgias Nikolaos, PhD, Historian, Researcher, and Political Scientist, Journalist in Kathimerini Cyprus. Dr Stelgias has a PhD in Political Science and History from the Panteion University He specialises in Turkish and Turkish Cypriot history of the twentieth century. His research interests refer to the study of the history, society, politics, economy and international relations of Greece, Cyprus, Turkey and the wider Eastern Mediterranean region. Dr Stelgias has considerable research experience in newspaper archives and has authored seven books in the Turkish and Greek language. His latest book titled 'The Ailing Turkish Democracy' will soon be published by the Cambridge Scholars Publications.

Triga Vasiliki, PhD (European University Institute), Assistant Professor at the Cyprus University of Technology, Department of Communication and Internet Studies. Her research interests lie in the field of political communication as well as Southern Politics and European Referendums. She is co-author of the book Referendums and the European Union: A Comparative Inquiry, published by Cambridge University Press in 2014.